

Operations Coordinator

The AFRI.CAN™ vision is to industrialize rural Africa with complete, strong, sustainable and smart AFRI.CAN™ micro-factories, business incubators, agro-processing facilities, schools, housing and other infrastructure. AFRI.CAN™ strives to revolutionize the agricultural economy of Africa. AFRI.CAN™ micro-factories are container cased processing units built to be food-safe, durable, secure, and able to function sustainably. AFRI.CAN™ is changing the African landscape, not only by adding value to rural economies, but also restoring dignity and changing the way people think. We see the African continent dotted with our micro-factories for grass roots industrialisation, empowering people from various agricultural sectors with skills, income and hope. AFRI.CAN™ has a kingdom mission to heal and help people through discipleship and entrepreneurial opportunity.

The Operations Coordinator is the first executive employee of this start-up company and will have to be a hard-working all-rounder and operator with a calling for this vision. The Operations Coordinator will have to develop the structure and administration of AFRI.CAN Microfactories, report to the board of shareholders and will have the responsibility to grow the company. Based in Bonnievale, the Operations Coordinator will travel within Africa from time to time. www.microfactories.co.za

The Operations Coordinator needs to be driven, entrepreneurial and self-motivated. The task description will include project management, design, research, development, budgeting, application and management of funding and financing, marketing, sales, communications, export logistics and processes, construction and commissioning, after sales service, training, facilitating of learnerships and discipleship.

This is a junior role with the possibility to grow with the company from its humble beginnings. If you believe you are called for this and have the right skills your application with motivational letter can be sent to info@microfactories.co.za by 13 March 2020.