

Operation/Production Engineer

DISA Vascular 2015 (Pty) Ltd trading as DISA Medinotec is a medical devices company which provides innovative, ground-breaking technology and specializes in the manufacturing and development of niche products in the fields of Cardiology, ENT, Airway Management and Surgical Devices.

Department: R&D Department

Qualifications required: BSc Eng/BEng (Mechanical, Mechatronics or related).

Purpose of the position: The engineer will primarily be involved in process implementation and validation as well as calibration, and maintenance of facilities, resources and equipment.

Knowledge, skills and experience required:

- Strong engineering knowledge and skills
- Good experience with a computer aided design package (preferably SolidWorks)
- Basic machining and tooling skills
- Goal-focused, with a proven track record of "getting things done".
- Ability to work well in a team and efficiently within highly regulated environment
- Good report-writing and communication skills

Recommended additional qualifications and experience:

- Experience with Solidworks is preferred.
- Experience working within an ISO 13485 environment will be advantageous.

Key Roles and Responsibilities:

- Maintenance and calibration of production, quality and research equipment
- Design and manufacturing of R&D and production equipment
- Optimisation of production processes
- Process validation
- Software validation
- Facilities and resource maintenance
- Technical support for production

- Generation and maintenance of documentation relating to equipment and processes
- Work within the quality management system of the company and assist in complying with ISO 13485

Please email CVs and cover letter to: angelica@disals.co.za